1 Hit&Run Accident	1 Drug Overdose	1 Sick/Mental
1 Larceny	1 Dog Bite	1 Warrant Arrest

SUPERVISOR COMMENTS

The day started out busy this morning and then mellowed out a bit. This morning, officers responded to a vehicle vs motorcyclist at Taylor/Golden State. Luckily there were no serious injuries. Officers responded to an adult residential facility where we get weekly calls. This time, one client had kicked another client in the leg. When all was said and done, an adult male was booked for assault/battery. Officers responded to an unresponsive male at Donnelly Park who had overdosed. Narcan was administered by officers and his life was saved. This afternoon, officers responded to a call of a female smoking drugs in a laundry mat. She had a local warrant for her arrest so she was booked.

SHIFT: SWING SHIFT

Sgt. Cervantez

NUMBER OF REPORTS: 7

CATEGORIES

3 Warrant Arrest	1 Juvenile Abuse	1 Assault & Battery
1 Hit & Run Accident	1 Narcotics

SUPERVISOR COMMENTS

Officers responded to a security check of two young children who reported to be living in a vehicle with their mother. One of the children showed severe signs of neglect, including a vaginal rash from sitting in a soaked diaper for days. The children smelled of cigarette and one child had a cigarette burn mark on the arm. CPS was notified and an emergency protective order was granted by a judge before the mother was arrested for juvenile abuse. The children were given to the father, due to no custody orders existing. Officers also responded to a suicidal person who was holding a kitchen knife to her arm. She had been arguing with her boyfriend, and their two-year-old child was in the apartment. Officers were able to get the knife away from the female and she was detained. The investigation revealed a domestic battery had occurred and she was the aggressor. She was arrested and booked into jail after being served with a protective order.

SHIFT: GRAVEYARD SHIFT

Sgt. Neves

NUMBER OF REPORTS: 2

CATEGORIES

1 Sick Person - Mental

1 Weapon Violation

SUPERVISOR COMMENTS

This was another busy night for my graveyard crew. Officers made several arrests tonight, ranging from warrant arrest, to weapon violations. During the shift officer contact a pair of suspicious subjects who were refusing to leave an establishment. After contacting them, officers discovered one had outstanding warrants the other was in possession of a concealed knife. Both were arrested and went to jail. Officers also placed a female on a mental health hold after she jumped out of her boyfriend's car during an argument.
